GOD’S MOVEMENT

By Scott Hasenbalg

Don’t we all want to be a part of the movement of God’s Spirit? I was reminded recently how God “does not dwell in buildings made by hands” (Acts 17:24) but rather that He dwells in us: “We are God’s house…” (Hebrews 3:6). Movements of God’s Spirit are not something we can create, but they are something we, as members of His house, are invited to join and experience. That is what we at Show Hope desire for every person involved.

What Show Hope is about, at its heart, is beyond any person, musician, staff member, or even cause. This ministry has been built on the belief that we can each take part in the glorious work of God through small steps of faithful obedience. God is about the business of His Kingdom on earth, and He invites us into that. By showing up in the midst of God’s will, we can experience Him while overflowing with hope to those who need it most.

Our conviction is that every person who donates to Show Hope, each individual who joins with us in prayer, every trip member, student, advocate, or adoptive family that is a part of this work is actually simply joining God’s Spirit as He cares for the orphans of this world. We know God is faithful because we have seen Him be so faithful. He has shown that faithfulness to thousands of orphans through you, the members of His house.

Throughout this book you have seen beautiful stories of God at work, but you have also seen glimpses of the need that still exists. There is much work to do, and we thank God for the time we have here on this earth to glorify Him by joining with you to do it. May the next ten years and beyond reflect an impact we could have never dreamed or imagined for those children who experience the brokenness of the orphan.

The real value in looking back at how...He has moved in such amazing, miraculous ways over these last ten years is that we can walk forward in faith knowing that He will continue to do so.

The real value in looking back at how, by His Spirit, He has moved in such amazing, miraculous ways over these last ten years is that we can walk forward in faith knowing that He will continue to do so.
